General Information:

We have been offering Moto Rumi vehicles for years. It is a special pleasure that we were able to get a Rumi 250 Four Junior. This 2-stroke with an in-line 4-cylinder was built and developed over 2 years. An Italian university was won over to cooperate in the construction of the crankshaft. But a whole series of coincidences were necessary, for example, to get an engine casing cast at the former Moto Rumi factory. The tank came from Argentina, which was no surprise, because a large number of Moto Rumi were exported to Argentina and finally some Moto Rumi enthusiasts were helpful with a wide variety of parts to be able to put this single piece into a running Moto Rumi 250 Four Cylinder.
