General Information:

The DKW SS 250 became famous for two reasons. Firstly, the elaborate engine design. The second was the first German victory in the worlds toughest motorbike race, the English Tourist Trophy, won by Ewald Kluge. At that time, the DKW SS 250 was almost unbeatable. The two-stroke single-cylinder twin-piston U-engine, water-cooled with charge pump in conjunction with a sophisticated chassis can be offered by us fully restored and ready to ride.
