General Information:

The original vehicle registration document from 1971 is still available. In the German first delivery, it is noted that the general operating licence for the CB 750 was issued under No. 7275 by the Federal Motor Transport Authority in Flensburg and European Honda Motor Trading GmbH in Offenbach. The second brake disc was registered and fitted in 1975. The engine number was entered in the so-called Pappbrief at the time and matches the vehicle we are offering. Longing and freedom were the buzzwords used to advertise the 750 Four back then. After 53 years, the Honda advertising text can still be quoted: 67 fiery horses. Impatient. Controlled. Powerful. Gently steered. 4 whispering cylinders. Dump rumbling harmony in a minor key. Unleashed vitality. Discipline. Matt shiny steel, styling. Lived masculinity. Flair Honda 750 Four. The soul breathes. Time stands still. Man and water. Become one.
