General Information:

The handover of the motorbike to us was impressive. The previous owner told us about his many adventures, both big and small, with his Horex Regina. The Regina had been part of his collection for over 30 years. During that time, he restored the Regina and brought it back to first-class condition. German registration documents are available. Far more important, however, is that the Horex is sure to continue to provide its future owner with wonderful experiences, for after all, a Regina is also a piece of German cultural heritage from the post-war era.
